Unify threat protection
Powered by Microsoft Security and fueled by AI

Stay ahead of evolving security threats

Cyber attacks are emerging more rapidly and becoming more complex. 77% of businesses say cyber risks are more difficult to detect and manage. To keep up, organizations need to move away from traditional threat hunting approaches that rely on too many disjointed and costly security tools.

Simplify your security landscape while significantly improving your detection and response capabilities with Avanade's unify threat protection offering. We consolidate your security tools to give you enhanced visibility across the threat landscape – enabling you to quickly remediate threats and reduce pressure on your teams through AI and automation.

Proactive security intelligence

Avanade's unique threat protection solution combines the power of Microsoft Sentinel and Microsoft Defender for Endpoint with Copilot for Security to provide enhanced analysis and visibility for rapid threat detection and investigation.

We help you simplify your security management so that you can maximize your security investment while reducing costs and leveraging automation and gen AI to improve the productivity of your security teams.

Value delivered

- Enhance security analysis and visibility
- Enable faster response time to attacks, including unique automatic attack disruption
- Boost team productivity and efficiency
- Reduce cost and complexity from vendor consolidation

Organizations with a unified threat protection approach experience:

75% improved efficiency and productivity

88% decrease in response time to attacks

60% reduced risk of material breach
